CARING FOR YOUR RECORDS BY Steve Levitan

Last week, I was chagrined to find that my favorite Beach Boy's album had been misused to such an extent that it was no longer pleasing to the ear. I immediately ran off to the bathroom and proceeded to give the record a bath.

Most people don't realize that washing records is actually good for them and will preserve the life of the record and of their needles. Some things to remember are:

1. Always use cool or cold water.
2. If using any detergent at all, only use a mild dish detergent (but not Ivory) and if using detergent, rinse very well.
3. Dry with a clean, soft cloth that will not leave lint on the surface of the record (I use an old record cloth which has lost all of its chemicals and has been washed clean.)
4. When the record no longer has drops of moisture but is still damp, put it on the turntable and play it one song at a time. Pick up the needle and clean it off after each cut.
6. Never, but never, use hot air to dry your records!
7. Remember that the record sleeve should be as clean as your now spotless record.

MORE TIPS ON CARE OF YOUR EQUIPMENT

1. In general, preeners are better than cloth.
2. If the record drops on the floor, wash it immediately. Don't try to clean it with a cloth or preener.
3. The most serious damage to records is caused by bits of grit on the surface of the record which gets pushed in by jackets, cloths, and preeners. This does more damage than a bad needle.
4. By the way, clean your needles with isopropyl alcohol, just like the pros.
5. And just remember, CLEANLINESS IS NEXT TO GODLINESS!
